Information Security Policy

At NEULAND, we believe Information security is one of our prime responsibilities to build trust and confidence in our customers, and also ensure that all information assets generated by Neuland are managed at the appropriate levels of Confidentiality, Integrity and Availability.

We ensure this through a formal Information Security Management System, which is reviewed for effectiveness from time to time. We achieve this through involving all our associates and investing in technology solutions.

We are committed to satisfy applicable requirements related to information security and continual improvement of the information security management systems.
